Hi Sonja,

Dad forwarded your email to me at work. I don't know if he is going to respond to it but here is my response. I thought I told you that I would make the buckeye balls. I rolled 228 balls (you don't get all of them!) last night while I was watching the football game and am planning on dipping them in chocolate either tonight or tomorrow so they will be ready whenever you come down. Any ideas what you and Nikki would like for supper on Friday?

As far as the lists, I need ideas for both you and Nikki. Nikki gave me only a couple of ideas and I would like more.

Looking forward to seeing you.

Love,
Mom
